Judge P. M. Babcock and lady of Minneapolis were guests of Mr. F. C. Buford last week. While here Judge Babcock purchased a farm of Mr. Buford and we understand he intends to run it as a stock farm and will probably spend the winter there. We are glad to see this industry gaining a strong foothold in Giles. This country is better adapted to stock raising than anything else and in a score of years live stock will be the one great source of revenue for the people of this section. Judge Babcock is familiar with Giles county horses and knows what he is doing when he looks here to embark in that business.

For once in a century we have escaped the "unusually dry summer." Giles county has had good rains every month this year, and the crops are good. There will probably be no enormous yield of any product, but there are no failures. Every farm product will do fairly well. We have no reason to hope that the county will ever have a better season. The farmer who makes nothing this year must be a miser. They have furnished one lot of good revenue for the people of this section. Judge Babcock is familiar with Giles county horses and knows what he is doing when he looks here to embark in that business.

Members of the bar comment very favorably upon the manner in which Hume R. Steele, esq., performed his arduous duties as attorney general pro tem.

ELECTION!

The Democrats Elect the Chancellor, Circuit Judge and Attorney General by Good Majorities.

The Colored Republicans in Giles Discard their Leaders and Help to Swell the Democratic Vote.

E. D. Patterson, Democratic Candidate for Circuit Judge. Carries Hardin County.

The county election was a strictly non-partisan contest. The republican strength in Giles is sufficient, when consolidated, to force the democrats into line, but a split between white and colored voters left the field open to democratic candidates this time.

The contest was none the less interesting, however, for the absence of the colored vote from the purely personal popularity and aroused as much interest as any political contest of equal importance.

Almost every man in the county was deeply interested in the election of some of the candidates. The county polled 650 more votes than in the last presidential election.

Hundreds of people from all parts of the county were in town Friday watching the bulletin as the returns came in and when enough was known to insure the election of W. R. Craig, J. Polk English, J. W. Braden and W. S. Ezell, these gentlemen were treated to a bare-back ride on an ex-confederate mule.

Several of the candidates made brief speeches and two who had been defeated announced that they will be candidates again for the next term.

The returns from other counties, reported at intervals, added to the enthusiasm of the crowd, though the election of all the democratic candidates had been considered certain from the beginning and reports only confirmed what had been confidently expected.

Hon. E. D. Patterson of Hardin, democratic nominee for election judge got a good majority in his own county, which is strongly republican.

The officials returns in the election of chancellor for this division and judge and attorney general of the circuit cannot be given yet. Several counties have not reported in full. The democratic nominees for these offices are elected by good majorities.

For chancellor, Abernathy carries Giles. Messrs. Dickson, Benton, Hickman and Perry. Deery carries Hardin, Wayne and Decatur. Abernathy's net majority in all counties reported is 4,730. Lawrence and Lewis, not yet reported, will swell his majority in the division to more than five thousand votes.

School Directors. District No. 1, Ed. Rochell; 2, F. P. Polk; 3, E. L. Edmundson; 4, A. T. Foster; 5, W. M. Beasley; 6, W. D. Reynolds; 7, G. A. Pope; 8, H. H. Aymett; 9, G. L. With a Gooding Pin.

Mr. J. E. Schauerer has been employed in Oakes & Co's furniture house for a month past spent a few hours at the depot yesterday and today and with very little delay he was able to get the furniture in the store. The brakeman, whose name we failed to get, struck Mr. Schauerer on the head with a coupling pin and left on his train before the police arrived. It is thought that Schauerer is not dangerously hurt.
